BY JANET MCQUEEN
Hancock County residents will show their support for our troops at a rally at the Track Saturday.

Red ribbons lining US-90 will soon display blue and white streamers, while a silver ribbon will name a local serviceman serving in Desert Storm. The project is being coordinated by Bay High School students and history teacher Joan Thomas and Bay St. Louis residents CoCo and Andrea Lojacano.

Highway Dept. nixes light for Drinkwater

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The Bay City Council heard the disappointing news Tuesday that a highway department survey of the US-90/Drinkwater Drive intersection shows there is not enough traffic to justify the installation of a traffic light.

Council members questioned the validity of the highway department survey, claiming the department took the survey at the wrong time when traffic was slight.

The council approved a $8,400 bid from J.R. Barker Contractors of Long Beach for work to repair the sewer cave-in on Sycamore Street.

Mayor Edward Favre said the city anticipated having a projected completion date within a few days. He added that if any problem should delay the work, which is expected to take a week, the city would inform the Krewe of Real People so that an alternate parade route could be planned before Mardi Gras.

State education budget cuts to come from programs, personnel

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
County school boards throughout the state are going to be making difficult decisions next month when they must reduce expenses by $25,500 per county, estimates Hancock County School Board Superintendent Terrell Randolph.

According to Randolph, Hancock School District will absorb the cut without asking for additional tax dollars.

The county's next largest contributor is the local taxpayer, bringing in 36 percent of the school district's budget through ad valorem (property) taxes.

The federal government provides 11 percent. Fund transfers and other sources yield four to five percent and 16th section land revenues produce one percent.

"I don't know how it will affect programs," said Randolph of the financial reduction.

Du Pont warning system finally running smoothly

BY TRACI BONNEY
An early warning system developed last year at the Du Pont chemical plant in DeLisle is now operating properly, according to plant representative Gary Ruff.

Ruff, who is senior supervisor of safety, health and environment at Du Pont, said the company has conducted several drills since the last component of the system was installed.

Desert Storm receives ammo while plant continues layaway

BY TRACI BONNEY
Operation Desert Storm has been getting some essentials from the local area — artillery shells from the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant.

According to Lt. Col. Harry Sawyer, the plant has been shipping ammunition for 155mm artillery (Howitzers) for several months now, first to Operation Desert Shield and now to its wartime counterpart.

Card of Thanks

We, the personnel at the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, would like to publicly express our heartfelt appreciation to all those who assisted in making the 1990 Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund successful.

Thanks to you, our supporters, we were able to provide some new toys and several good used toys to 1,008 children of Hancock County.

We collect good used toys throughout the year, and these help us supplement the new toys, giving each child more presents to open.

Working together on this endeavor, I feel gives us all a great sense of satisfaction, and I look forward to our future efforts.

A special thanks goes to our sponsor, the United Way of Hancock County. Working together we can help so many.

Keeping the dream alive

Members of Mount Chapel Baptist Church in Waveland march down Herlihy Avenue to the Martin Luther King Park Monday in honor of the civil rights leader's birthday. The march, sponsored by the Waveland Improvement Association, directs attention to the children of the community. Prior to the march, about 60 people, mostly teenagers and children, attended the viewing of a videotape about King's life and the unfolding of the civil rights movement. Clarence Harris, a former candidate for alderman, spoke to the children, encouraging them to study hard, become involved in the community. "Where others may have not succeeded, you could make the difference," he said. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

Life must go on

I have some bad news and some good news.

First, the bad news: There's a war on. (News, Traci? That's not news. News is new; we've known about the war for days now.)

Now the good news: It isn't the end of the world.

I'm not going to quote chapter and verse, but you can trust me on this one; the doomsaying sign-wavers, if you've seen any lately, are off-track.

"Life must go on"—how trite that phrase is, but how true.

You see, the Boss (to quote Michael Landon) set it up that way.

When you were a child, and you lost your first pet to natural or unnatural causes, you thought the world would end, didn't you? Well, it didn't. (Obviously, I don't think I'll be writing this column on the other side of eternity.)

When the love of your life (you know, your first-grade sweetheart) told you to take a hike, you thought the world would end, but it didn't.

When you made that F in history and wrecked your 3.5 average because you were peeved at the yuppie teaching the class, you thought the world would end (or at least, yours would when Mom and Dad saw the report card), but it didn't.

KILLING TIME

By Traci Bonney

When you wrapped Dad's car around a telephone pole, you were positive life as you knew it would end before you could explain to Dad that it happened because you were trying to avoid rear-ending someone, but life as you knew it didn't end (although your driving privileges probably did for quite some time).

When your favorite aunt died, you definitely thought the world was coming to an end, but it wasn't.

I could go on with other examples, but I'm afraid I would be getting morbid. But I think you get the point: many personal, national and international tragedies have occurred since the creation of the world, but I don't see any of us running around in white robes or strumming harps.

So while this war will claim some lives (and may have already, from the recent news accounts I've seen), and those losses are tragic, this is not—I repeat, NOT—Armageddon.

Life must go on, and it will.

House passes resolution in support of Armed Forces

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 66
A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION COMMENDING AND CONGRATULATING THE ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES WHO ARE PARTICIPATING IN AND SUPPORTING OPERATION DESERT SHIELD AND OPERATION DESERT STORM.

WHEREAS, the Armed Forces of the United States of America have gone into action in the Persian Gulf on January 16, 1991; and

WHEREAS, these forces include elements of the United States Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force, and include regular troops, reserves and National Guard; and

WHEREAS, our Armed Forces are acting under orders of the Nation's Commander in Chief, President George Bush, under authority granted by the United States Congress and pursuant to numerous resolutions adopted by the United Nations; and

WHEREAS, our Armed Forces are operating as part of a worldwide coalition of 28 nations and have gone into combat beside troops from Great Britain, France, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait; and with great courage, determination, skill and early success which is unsurpassed in the annals of warfare, and they have earned the respect, gratitude and pride of this Nation:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN, That we hereby declare our complete support for and our great pride in the Armed Forces of the United States, both in the Middle East and elsewhere, who are participating in and supporting Operation Desert Shield and Operation Desert Storm.

Storm and to other depots," Sawyer commented.

He praised the efforts of loading dock workers, who have put in 12 to 14 hours some days to fill orders, many of which have been given on short notice.

"Those folks have just done an outstanding job," he remarked.

Disposing of artillery shells is a large part of the layaway process the plant has undergone for several months now. The plant's mothballing began in earnest following the last major worker layoff late last summer, and is expected to continue until around April 1992.

There are no plans to reactivate the plant, in case you hear such a rumor," he said.

However, Sawyer continued, several companies are still interested in re-utilizing parts or all of the plant for other purposes.

At this time, the plant's work force is down to about 400 employees. It is expected to decrease gradually to approximately 100 workers.

Taxes

because that would also affect school accreditation.

He added last year the state had reduced transportation and teaching allowances by $75,000, and also reduced monies to vocational and remedial program assistance by $4,000.

"These cuts were carried over into the 1990-91 budget," said Randolph. "Those same cuts will be in effect next year, plus five percent."

"They (state officials) are telling us to take precautions."

"The only way to solve it (budget shortfall)," he stated, "is if the governor and legislators can raise revenues."

Facing current and predicted reductions in budget, Randolph sees problems with planned growth in programs for Hancock students.

Randolph explained future needs must be addressed in the development of programs, so that the students of today become the workers of tomorrow.

For example:
—High technological skills in computers, lasers and robotics will be in demand.

—Strengthening in language skills is required, as world communications reduce cultural bridges.

—Aquaculture studies in marine farming and management will be suited to local growth.

"The school districts that had wealth and had the programs," said Randolph, "will hurt the most."

"Based on wealth per student on local revenues and good management of 16 section lands," reported Randolph, "we are the second wealthiest school district along the Coast."

"We have a standard of high living, here on the Coast, and now that will be taken away."

"We are going to have to cut programs or personnel, and this reduces our ability to add and continue."

Randolph continued, saying monies are allocated by law. For example, monies used for building cannot be used for teacher's pay. As funds are designated, they must be used. No robbing Peter to pay Paul here.

Hancock County School District, reported the superintendent, is one of the fastest growing school districts in the state.

"This year," he said, "we increased our student load by 220 students. That is a 10 percent increase."

"We added four new bus routes. Transportation is costing us twice as much in fuel. Since the Iraq invasion of Kuwait, we are paying 25 cents more per gallon of fuel."

"Transportation alone, is one of our greatest costs."

Randolph spoke of the improvements he has seen in students' grades.

"Our students had the highest score on the Coast for the functional literacy exam," he stated, "and during the second round, pulled that up to 100 percent."

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It is good to see the number of American flags flying in front of businesses and homes in the area.

Our United States men and women in Operation Desert Storm need our continued support.

I am hoping to see more flags and ribbons on display throughout the area in the days ahead.

Only those who have been at the front lines can tell you the full story about the horrors of a war.

We, as Americans, need to let our men and women in uniform know that they are receiving our full support. Let's let the flag fly.

While on the subject of Operation Desert Storm, there will be special support program in Bay St. Louis on Saturday, February 2.

The special program will be held at 2 p.m. at the Hancock County Walking Track in front of Hancock Medical Center, U.S. Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Ames Kergosien, who has a son involved in Operation Desert Storm, is one who is spearheading the special support program.

Kergosien reports he is receiving very good support from the community.

This is to be a community effort, so everyone is invited, especially the veterans organizations, families, club members, elected officials, individuals, etc.

The program is to last about one hour Kergosien reports.

Do not forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) at the Civic Center on Longfellow Drive at 7:30 a.m.

Lester Herrington, interim executive director of the Mississippi Gaming Commission is the scheduled speaker.

Herrington is to give a status report on the regulations of gaming in the state.

The Morning Edition is free and open to chamber members and concerned citizens.

It is so good to see work begin on the overlay of Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis.

The overlay is to be from Washington Street to U.S. 90.

It looks like this time the entire road will be overlaid, and I hope this is so.

Beach Boulevard has needed an overlay for some time in Bay St. Louis, and I am glad to see our supervisors have undertaken the project.

All motorists will be looking forward to the completion of this important project.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

American troops performing superbly

The U.S. House of Representatives and the Senate both approved last week resolutions that support U.S. troops in the Persian Gulf and support our President's objectives in the Middle East.

The resolutions stated that Congress commends and supports the efforts and leadership of the President as commander and chief of the Persian Gulf war and unequivocally supports our men and women in uniform.

I voted in favor of the resolution in the House and felt it was needed and necessary. A week earlier, I had supported allowing more time for sanctions to cripple Iraq and Saddam Hussein. Obviously, as soon as the first U.S. air mission was launched on Iraq on January 16, the time for debate on the war issue was over. I joined with all Americans in praying for a swift and decisive victory with a minimum of casualties.

I have no doubts about our troops' ability. We are not out of danger yet. The President and the Defense Secretary are cautioning Americans not to get over optimistic. But at the writing of this column, our war planes have already flown over 1,400 flawless missions. Unfortunately, three American planes were shot down.

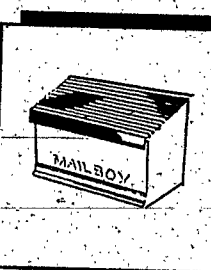

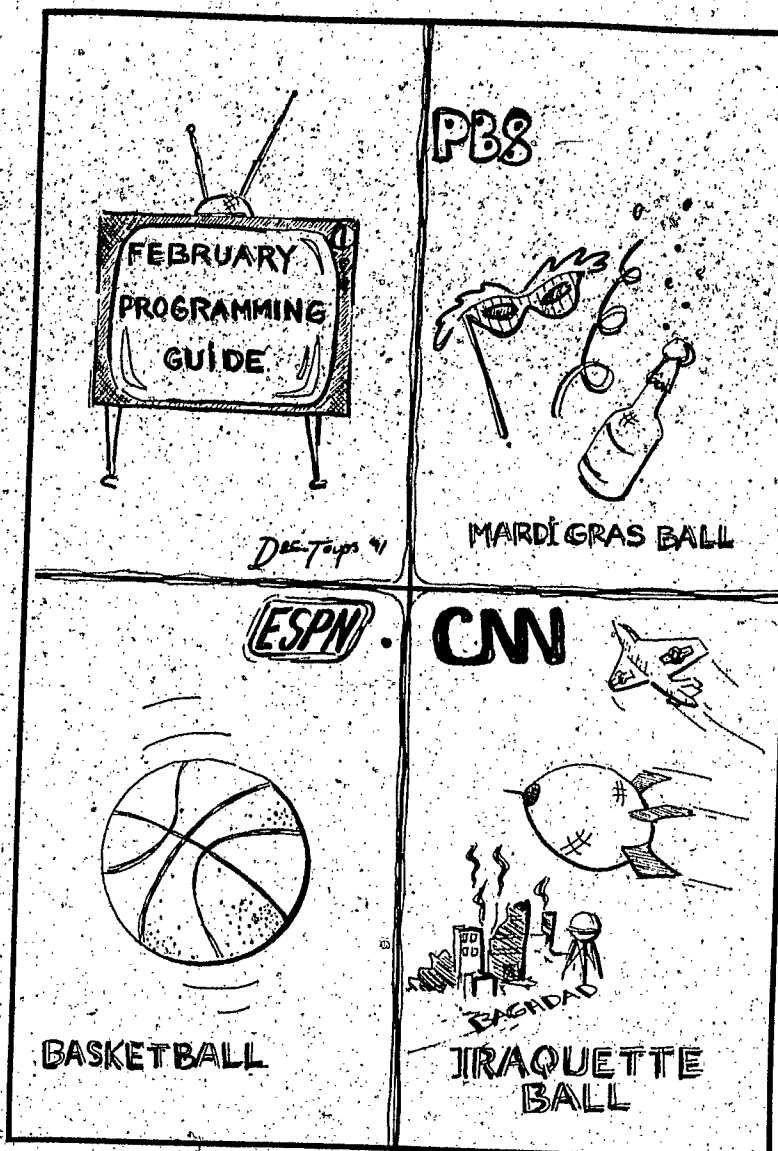

Britain, France, Italy, Canada, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait have all joined in the air campaigns. Allied war planes were expected to continue to pound Iraqi missile sites, airfields and other targets well through last week. Our government vowed that the attacks would continue until Iraq vacates Kuwait.

One encouraging sign last week was that Israel, despite being attacked by Iraqi missiles, had agreed not to retaliate and allow allied forces to bear the brunt of the offensive.

Obviously, none of us wants to see any casualties, but all reports of our first offensive missions in the Middle East are better than expected. My hopes now are that our eventual ground attacks will be just as successful.

Just before Christmas I visited out troops and bases in Turkey near the Iraqi border and those in Germany en route to Saudi Arabia. I expressed my unconditional support and our nation's gratitude for their willingness to serve and I pledged then to seek to accomplish our goals in the Middle East with the least cost in American lives.

Our military has performed superbly thus far in the campaign, and I have every confidence that soon our troops will liberate Kuwait and rid the Middle East and the world of the brutality of Saddam Hussein.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

War in the Gulf

A lot has happened in the Persian Gulf in the span of one week.

On January 12, Congress granted President Bush the authority to use force, if necessary, if Iraq did not end its occupation of Kuwait by Jan. 15, as required by the United Nations Security Council.

On Jan. 16, the President ordered air strikes on strategic targets in Iraq and Kuwait. To date these strikes have been very effective and had a dramatic impact on Saddam Hussein's air power, as well as biological, chemical, and nuclear power.

Americans have been awed by the skill, effectiveness, and high technology capabilities of our military weaponry. Our F-117As "stealth" characteristics made them hard to detect by Iraq until after they had released their weapons. That's why they were able to penetrate heavily defended sites like the Iraqi communications centers.

One Scud ground-to-ground missile fired into the Dhahran area Thursday night in eastern Saudi Arabia, site of a large air base from which Saudi and U.S. forces are operating, was shot down in the air by a U.S. patriot air defense missile and did not land. The Patriot missile is a part of this nation's Strategic Defense Initiative program, oftentimes ridiculed by liberals in Congress.

In the first 24 hours of Operation Desert Storm, as the battle to free Kuwait has been dubbed by the Pentagon, most of Iraq's fixed ground-to-ground Scud sites were believed destroyed. About 160 separate targets were hit, including not only military but political targets such as the Baath party headquarters and the defense ministry in Baghdad.

The outstanding performance of our troops and our military equipment are directly attributable to those leaders like President Reagan and our own Senator John Stennis who urged our nation's climb to military excellence. I called Senator Stennis to discuss it with him.

The Senate on Jan. 17 belatedly adopted a resolution praising the President and "unequivocally" supporting our troops in the Persian Gulf "who are carrying out their missions with professional excellence, dedicated patriotism, and exemplary bravery."

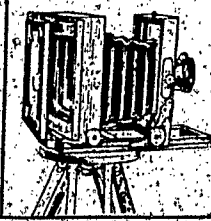

While the initial reports of our military mission have exceeded my expectations, I am disturbed by Saddam Hussein's unprovoked attack on Israel which is not a party to this conflict. Iraq's strike against Israel is yet another example of Hussein's raw aggression and further makes the Allies' case for checking that aggression now.

Any loss of human life is tragic, but they are fewer than we ever anticipated in undertaking such a massive operation.

My fervent hope is that this conflict will be short in duration, but the reality is that stopping Saddam Hussein could take time. We should be prepared for that eventuality.

In the past few days we have witnessed the power of Iraq's military and the insanity of Saddam Hussein. President John F. Kennedy speaking in 1962 said, "Aggressive conduct, if allowed to go unchecked and unchallenged, ultimately leads to war."

The choice is clear. America can face down the Iraqi dictator now or chance allowing him to become more dangerous down the road.

Ground tremors were reportedly felt in most areas of Hancock County during the sustained, final three-engine firing at NSTL before the long-awaited Columbia launch.

JANUARY 18, 1896

The House of Representatives has scarcely been in session a week when some astonishingly nonsensical bills have already been introduced. Mississippi has, of late, been unfortunate in the way of securing able legislators, and particularly is the case this session. Instead of devising means that will tend to improve our state, induce immigration, foster manufactures, they are trying to suppress the liquor traffic, trying to prevent the railroad companies from running their freight trains on Sundays, and next, they may want to stop the sun from shining on Sundays. What queer lot of idiots! The material advancement of our grand state, does, in a means are, depend upon the deliberation of that body, and if it cannot act except in a manner derogatory to the purpose in view, than it is time that that body be abolished! Mississippi, with a history as proud as that of any state in the great free Republic of America, was never intended to be converted into a Sunday School house, nor its legislative halls into a museum. Better that the whole thing be swept away than that it stands as a memorial to ridicule to the outside world.

Senate update

Franckiewicz files GCA cleanup bill

BY TRACI BONNEY

Senator Vic Franckiewicz has said several times that he thinks the Gaming Control Act of 1990 needs to be tightened and clarified. In fact, he has cited problems with the act to explain negative votes on issues such as funding a state gaming commission.

To take care of the "loose ends" he sees in the Gaming Control Act, Franckiewicz has filed Senate Bill 2787. In a memo to fellow senators, Franckiewicz stated, "Some of the changes are technical corrections. Others clarify (I think) the original intent of the legislation, such as the changes for sports pools, race-books and bingo. The significant changes address local zoning, open records and public hearings, hours of operation, and the commission's discretionary authority to regulate wagering and loss limits."

Addressing sports pools and race books, Franckiewicz said the control act's language is unclear; in one place it prohibits betting on amateur events but in another area does not. S.B. 2787 would clearly prohibit betting on amateur events.

Another part of Franckiewicz's bill would prohibit the gaming commission's executive director from having any financial interest in a gambling operation three years before taking office or three years after leaving. This would prevent interest in a company or operation from influencing the director's decisions and recommendations concerning licensing, the senator said.

Another provision in S.B. 2787 calls for making the criminal record of gambling operation licensees available to the public. "By making the record public, we would give the people a chance to know who and what they are dealing with when they enter into business with the licensee or when they go into a gambling establishment," Franckiewicz explained.

S.B. 2787 would also require that applicants pay application and investigation fees. Franckiewicz said that the current wording of the Gaming Control Act exempts first-time applicants from paying the fees. "As far as I can tell, they only apply one time," he said.

A key provision of S.B. 2787 restores zoning controls to the local government. This provision was included in response to an attorney general's opinion that state law supersedes local zoning regulations, Franckiewicz said.

The bill also calls for public hearings before a gambling operation is licensed. The senator said the current wording allows the operator to have a hearing if his application is rejected, but does not allow the public to call for a hearing.

S.B. 2787 includes a provision slightly limiting the operating hours of casinos. It would require that gambling operations close from 4 to 10 a.m. Franckiewicz said this is both to maintain some peace and quiet and to prevent the lure of 24-hour operations for compulsive gamblers.

The bill also requires the state gaming commission to set bet/loss limits. In addition, it excludes the gaming commission's executive director from being able to reverse commission decisions about the suitability of a license applicant. Franckiewicz said that the control act's wording now allows the director to decide on an applicant's suitability if the commission rejects a license application.

He added that although he is filing the bill, he doesn't expect it to receive much support. "There doesn't seem to be a feeling that there's a need for regulation here in Jackson," he commented.

He also said that he is introducing bills to allow county governments to implement zoning in only part of the county, and to let local governments implement interim zoning measures to be used until permanent measures are developed.

Essay winners rewarded with trip to Washington

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

For two Hancock County High School students, "What It Means To Be An American," earned them state honors and an opportunity to lunch with the President of the United States this past December.

Seniors Bridget Gonzales of Pearllington and Charles Subervielle of Bay St. Louis entered the essay contest through the Jobs for Mississippi Graduates

Program (JMG) and were selected as state representatives to travel to Washington, D.C.

They joined with other state winners for three days of classes in how to seek, find and maintain employment.

Gonzales was selected as the overall state winner and Subervielle was the individual school winner.

Gonzales believes her essay earned acknowledgement because "it was different from the others."

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Much more fun than arguing over the origin of the Caesar salad, as so many do, is preparing one at table with flair and finesse, for showmanship is an essential ingredient of this masterpiece of a salad!

Caesar Cardini, a Mexican restaurant owner, is the alleged creator of this classic salad, way back in the 1920's; and its fame has endured through the years. I was privileged, during the recent holiday time, to enjoy just about the finest ever!

I must confess at the outset, that I may be just a tiny bit prejudiced, inasmuch as the Caesar Salad maker was No. 2 grandson Brian McGuire, home on holiday from his studies at Coastal College of the University of South Carolina, in Conway, where he also is busy as editor-in-chief of the college newspaper, The Chanticleer, and as a part-time waiter at Thoroughbred's fine restaurant in Myrtle Beach, S.C.

All of us in the family had been asking Brian to make us a Caesar Salad and were delighted with the salad as well as the showmanship.

Brian promised to send his dear old grandmother a copy of the recipe, so here is:

CAESAR SALAD A LA BRIAN

"Dear Grandma,
Here is the inside scoop on the Caesar Salad. I started to write an intro, but it turned into a puffery tale. I would prefer to leave the copy to you—after all, you have a good deal of experience in column writing. I will, however, provide the pertinent facts.

At the restaurant where I work, "Thoroughbred's" in Myrtle Beach, the waiters prepare the salad at tableside and from fresh ingredients. We are supplied with a general recipe, but just as people differ, so do the concoctions of the individual waiters. I believe, of course that the Caesar Salad a la Brian is the most perfected and polished formula ever to exist. Without further ado..."

Ingredients for salad for four:

- 1 large clove of peeled garlic
- 2 large filets of anchovies (ca. 5 inches long)
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 Tbsp. dijon mustard
- 1 lemon
- 1 Tbsp. worcestershire
- A large amount of black pepper or fresh ground pepper
- 2/3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1 splash red wine vinegar
- 1 cup croutons.
- 1 1/2 or 2 heads Romaine lettuce

Directions:

In a large salad bowl, mince the garlic with two forks. This is a conventional method that consists of holding the garlic under one fork and scraping the tines with the other fork. Reduce the garlic to its finest state, and with the bottom of a sturdy tablespoon, spread it around the bowl.

Add the anchovies and repeat the process with the forks. The filets should reduce to a paste that should be spread around the bowl.

Separate the eggs and add the yolks. Add the dijon, the vinegar and the worcestershire, mixing all the while. Out the lemon in half, wrap the halves in a cloth, and squeeze the juice into the bowl.

Cover the surface of the bowl lightly with the pepper. With the spoon scrape the mixture down to the bottom of the bowl and mix thoroughly.

The mixture should be a slightly dark brownish-yellow. Mix in the oil and add about half of the cheese. Throw in the croutons, lettuce, and then croutons. Toss, and viola! The best Caesar salad outside of Tijuana.

"I am accustomed to using an authentic wooden bowl, but compensations can be made.

"The salad is not difficult to learn how to prepare, but because the ingredients are potent and can be pungent when used to excess, the salad can only be mastered through trial and error. I have had the benefit of holding many trials and correcting many errors.

"The salad is an elaborate affair at the restaurant, but an equivalent fiasco can be duplicated by any host or hostess of a dinner party.

"The recipe can be altered to accommodate any amount of people by using half of the ingredients or twice or thrice—the secret is trial and error.

"I hope that the majority of people will benefit from this recipe. When the salad is perfected, even the harshest critics will be in awe with pleasure and envy. My girlfriend could probably attest to that. If she ever leaves me, I wouldn't be surprised if Barbara still asked me to make for her a Caesar Salad."

St. Stanislaus varsity team loses to Long Beach, Hancock

BY TRACI BONNEY

The St. Stanislaus varsity Rock-A-Chaws slipped from second to third place in the district after losing to both the Long Beach Bearcats and the Hancock Hawks.

When the Rocks hosted the undefeated Cats January 18, Long Beach edged by SSC 63-60, bringing SSC's record to 8-11 overall and 2-3 for the district. Long Beach stood at 25-0 overall and 7-0 for the district following the game.

Key SSC players were Erik York, with 21 points and 12 rebounds; Brandon Smith, 20 points, 12 rebounds and six blocked shots; and Mike Lee, seven points and six assists. Long Beach leaders included Craig Stallings with 18 points; Ricky Francois, 17 points; and Keenan Smith, 13 points.

Commenting on key plays, SSC Coach Chuck Genin said, "We missed nine free throws and our first eight to 10 shots from the field. When playing a ranked team in the top 10 (Long Beach is fourth) you can't miss a high percentage of shots and expect to win."

Genin said free throws provided SSC with its turning point. "It was a nip-and-tuck game all through the contest. We had our chances to win but could not get the right break."

Although SSC lost, Genin said he is pleased with the Rocks' efforts. "I am very proud of the overall team attitude. There is good team spirit."

"We played and executed our game plan very well, but could not get a break. It seemed like all the close calls went their way."

In SSC's January 22 faceoff with the Hawks at Hancock High School, the Rocks scored 82 points to the Hawks' 88 and slipped into third place in the district.

The only SSC player who scored in double digits was Galen Smith, who netted 17 points.

Genin said, "We started very slow and shot a very low percentage from the field. Hancock blistered the nets."

"We played totally opposite of what we did Friday against Long Beach. We must become more consistent."

SSC's next match is today, 8 p.m., against the Pascagoula Panthers in the third annual SSC Invitational Tournament. Bay High School also plays in the tourney when the Tigers face the Stone County Tomcats at 6:30 p.m.

On Friday, the losers of Thursday's games will face off at 6:30 p.m., and the Stone County/Bay High winner plays Greenville at 8 p.m. On Saturday, the third place game will start at 6:30 p.m. and the finals will begin at 8 p.m.

St. Stanislaus 9th graders defeat crosstown rival 55-41

BY TRACI BONNEY

The ninth grade St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws stand at 3-7 for the season after defeating rival Bay High Tigers 55-41 January 17 at Bay High.

The Rocks trailed at the end of the first quarter of play by 4 points, but shot ahead in the second quarter, garnering 21 points for the Tigers' 8 and finishing the half with a score of 29-20.

The second half was close, with SSC leading in both quarters — 13 points to Bay High's 12 in the third, and 13 to the Tigers' 9 in the final quarter.

Leading scorers for SSC were Imari Esters with 19 points; Andy Rethmeyer, 13; and Vince Moran, 12.

SSC Coach Andy Kivlan said a strong second quarter, tight pressure defense and good "team" play were keys in SSC's win.

"This was probably our strongest offensive performance this year. We planned to take the ball inside and we did. Imari did a good job of driving to the basket, shooting if open or dishing the ball off if he was covered," Kivlan said.

The team's next two matches were against Hancock High School and Long Beach High School.

Raiders eye district title

Coast Episcopal High School gained a share of first place in the Mississippi Private School Class 1A South District race Saturday night with a 74-66 win over Prentiss.

The win avenged an earlier season loss to Prentiss and kept the Raiders in the hunt for the regular season championship.

Senior Bruce Hull and sophomore A.J. Ashe combined for 51 points to lead the Raiders to their 20th win of the season against only seven losses.

Freshman Tyrone Jones added 11 points and sophomore Dave Hagan added seven. Junior Chris Painter canned four, and sophomore Nathan Guice pitched in two.

The Raiders connected on 8 of 9 free throws down the stretch to preserve the victory.

"This is a very big win for us," said Raider Coach Jack Hutchison. "This is what we've been working towards for two years. The kids played with a lot of poise and confidence. Prentiss has a very good basketball team," Hutchison said.

In a game on Friday night, the Raiders played excellent defense as they held Union Academy to only two first-half points and went on to a very easy 59-11 victory over the visitors from Georgetown, Miss.

"Friday night, we took them out of their game completely, and they never got in the groove," said Hutchison. "We had them confused early in the game, and they never rebounded from that."

In the Raiders' most recent game on Tuesday night, CM&I of Jackson used a 39-point performance from Marlow Carey to slip past Coast Episcopal 85-84.

Carey connected on 15 of 16 second-half field goals to lift the 21-2 Crusaders over the home-standing Raiders.

The Raiders were led by A.J. Ashe with 31 points, followed by Tyrone Jones with 20. Chris Painter canned 17, while Dave Hagan tossed in eight.

Other scorers were Nathan Guice, four, and Adam Farragut and George Hlass each two points.

Coast Episcopal, 20-8 for the season, plays again this Friday night, when the Raiders host Rankin in a district contest. Chamberlain Hunt visits Saturday afternoon in a game that will decide the Raiders' fate in the district race.

"Chamberlain Hunt beat us by two points earlier in the year at home," said Hutchison. "From here on out, we control our own destiny, and I really believe the team will respond well," Hutchison said.

The weekend games will be played in the CEHS gym on Espy Avenue. Friday's game begins with the junior varsity at 5 p.m. and varsity at 6 p.m. The game on Saturday is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Commission outlines red snapper length, bag limits

The state Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks passed a resolution stating its intent to adopt a new ordinance establishing a 13-inch minimum length limit and a two-fish possession limit for red snapper caught by recreational fishermen in Mississippi waters.

The ordinance may become effective 60 days after the notice of intent is filed with the Secretary of State's Office. The public has 30 days in which to file comments with the commission, before the commission takes a final vote on the ordinance.

If the commission votes to pass the ordinance, the law may become effective 30 days later. Presently, there is no minimum recreational size or bag limit for red snapper in Mississippi.

Marine biologist Scott Gordon, with the Bureau of Marine Resources, said BMR officials recommended that commission adopt the new regulations to be in compliance with federal regulations that are soon to be imposed by the U.S. Secretary of Commerce based on recommendations by the Gulf of Mexico Fisheries Management Council.

Gordon said federal officials are recommending stricter laws controlling both recreational and commercial red snapper fishing because recent studies show red snapper populations to be greatly reduced because of overfishing.

In Mississippi, a 13-inch red snapper length limit has been in effect for commercial fishermen for several years.

Red snapper is a reef fish, sought after by commercial and recreational fishermen alike for its delicate white meat.

Gordon said that very few red snapper are to be found in Mississippi waters.

Rocks top Gulfport

Special to the Echo

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws downed the Gulfport Admirals in a soccer match this week. Great defensive play enabled the Rocks to win 4-1.

Kevin Jacobi scored the first goal off a corner kick by Trey Kidd. Kidd returned the favor, and scored off a Jacobi throw in.

Goalie Brian Gagnon kept the Admirals scoreless and frustrated the entire first half. Second half action for the Rocks found Kendall Daniels with a score off another Jacobi assist. The Admirals found an opening and put the ball in, but a quick Jacobi pass to Trey Kidd put the cap on it with St. Stanislaus winning 4-0.

The Rocks next game is tonight at 7 p.m. at the St. Stanislaus stadium.

mittee and the House Game and Fish Committee will join "Outdoors" host Melvin Tingle in fielding viewer calls phoned in via toll-free phone lines on issues to be addressed during the current legislative session and past legislative actions and their impact.

Red snapper regulations to be reviewed in March

Once again the regional director of National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) has requested the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council to reconsider rules for 1991 to begin restoring the red snapper resource.

At a September 1990 meeting in New Orleans, the Council reviewed data and public hearing comments and recommended red snapper rules.

After that meeting, the regional director told the Council he had not approved their recommended rules and asked that the Council reconsider them.

At its November 1990 meeting, the council revised its proposed rules to include a recreational bag limit of two fish and an annual commercial quota of 2.0 million pounds.

The director's recent request asks the Council to consider alternative ways to reduce shrimp trawling catch of red snapper, new data and measures that may result in different bag limits and deductions from the commercial quota to offset fishing mortality.

The Council will consider the request to examine the issues and new data provided by NMFS at its March 18-21, 1991 meeting in Panama City, Fla.

Rallying around the flag

Support group plans initial meeting

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The families directly affected by United States military participation in Operation Desert Storm numbers in the hundreds in Hancock County, as evidenced by the above list.

An organizational meeting of a support group for relatives of those deployed to Saudi Arabia is planned Saturday, January 26 at 7:30 p.m. at Mary's Eatery, according to organizers Terry and Ann Latham.

The Latham's son, Joseph (Jay) Latham, 20, is serving with the 354th Tactical Fighter Wing.

"We recognize the worry, the fear, and sense of frustration involved in a situation like this. We want to do whatever we can to help those who are going through this for the first time," said Ann Latham.

"My husband (Senior Chief Petty Officer stationed with the Naval Oceanographic Command at Stennis Space Center) has been deployed many times.

"You don't ever like it; you learn to cope with it. I think you worry more about the safety of your child than your husband, because to a parent, your child still needs your protection," she said.

The keys to coping, she allowed, are keeping busy and having a positive attitude. "Let your loved one know you care and are thinking about him or her."

Terry Latham has facilitated support groups as part of his duties in the Navy.

"Affording people a chance to meet others who are in the same situation, and allowing them to voice their feelings can be extremely beneficial.

"It's when you feel alone and that no one cares or understands that problems begin," he said.

Sometimes the smallest gesture can make a world of difference, as he related the pride with which he viewed a portable sign outside of Layne's Fried Chicken in Waveland proclaiming their support.

"I urge all friends, relatives and citizens who wish to show their support for the men and women of Desert Storm to come together," he said.

Arrangements will be made for a larger meeting place if necessary, said Latham, who thanked Mary and Bruce Daggett for offering use of their building for the initial meeting.

Mary's Eatery is located at 116 N. Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis. For additional information, call the Lathams at 467-3204.

Sea Camp registration underway

Space is filling up quickly for the 1991 sessions of Project Marine Discovery Sea Camp at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory's J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi. Dr. Sharon H. Walker, MEC&A administrator, said a June 1990 feature in Southern Living had generated many out-of-state inquiries. She encouraged local parents to register their children for Sea Camp as soon as possible.

Six one-week sessions are scheduled for children ages 6 to 12: June 10-14, June 17-21, July 8-12, July 15-19, July 29-Aug. 2, and Aug. 12-16. Additionally, the weeks of June 17-21 and July 29-Aug. 2 will be open to 13 and 14-year-olds.

Sea Camp, initiated in 1988 by GCRL and the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium, uses boat trips, field excursions, bikes, arts and crafts, laboratory demonstrations, films, aquarium tours and hands-on activities to acquaint young people with the marine environment and coastal resources. Nearly 1,000 children participated in Sea Camp last summer.

Cost per week is $77 for ages 9-14 and $67 for ages 6-8 to cover instructional costs and materials, transportation and admission fees. A $10 non-refundable pre-registration deposit is required. Campers provide their own lunches, snacks and drinks.

To register a camper or to obtain additional information, call the MEC&A at 374-5550, stop by the center at 115 Beach Blvd. (U.S. Hwy. 90), Biloxi, at the western end of the Biloxi-Ocean Springs Bridge, or write to Sea Camp, P.O. Box 7000, Ocean Springs, MS 39564-7000.

USM/Gulf Coast lists new courses for spring

Three new courses have been added to the curriculum at USM/Gulf Coast for the spring term, beginning with registration Feb. 20-21.

Subject areas for the new offerings include speech communication, sociology and general studies.

The speech communications course, "Interviewing Principles and Applications," instructed by Dr. Stan Gwinn, will cover one-on-one communication skills for the workplace and will be taught at the Gulf Park campus on Monday evenings.

"Sociology in Religion," taught by Dr. M. G. Dunn, will examine religion as a social institution. It will be a Thursday evening offering at Gulf Park.

The general studies course, "College Survival," is designed to refresh college skills such as note-taking, test-taking, and study skills. It also will focus on time management and stress management, organizational skills and assertiveness. Sheila White will instruct this course, which will be offered at USM/Jackson County on Tuesday evenings and at Gulf Park on Thursday evenings.

Additional information about each of these offerings is available by calling any USM office on the Coast: Gulf Park, 865-4500; Keesler 377-2309; Jackson County 497-3636.

Spring-term registration at USM/Gulf Coast will be held Wednesday, Feb. 20, at Keesler and Jackson County; and Thursday, Feb. 21, at Gulf Park.

"Between The Expectant Mothers
And The Expectant Fathers,
I Never Know What To Expect."

When delivering babies, Dr. Douglas Slocum always expects the unexpected. Because, as he has often seen, sometimes the events which surround a delivery can be almost as exciting as the delivery itself.

As an Ob-Gyn, Dr. Slocum is often a part of this excitement. He's been amused by two mothers in labor debating who had the right to deliver first. He's seen even the toughest of men pass out in the delivery room. And he's often reassured anxious family members as they paced the halls.

He has also experienced, first hand, the many emotions expectant parents feel—he felt them, too, when his own children were delivered. So he can easily relate with his patients and their families.

The joys these experiences bring are the very reasons Dr. Slocum chose to be an obstetrician. Because for Dr. Slocum, there's no greater reward than seeing the tears of joy that fill parents' eyes when they hold their newborn baby for the first time.

So when you're expecting a baby, get the complete, quality obstetrical care you expect. From a doctor who understands what you're experiencing. Dr. Douglas Slocum.

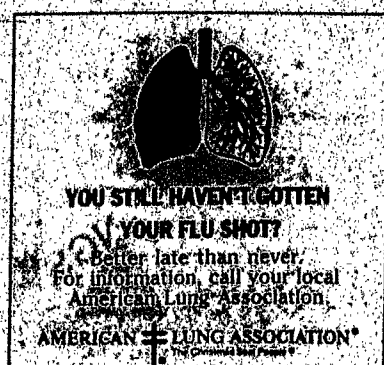

The doctor is expecting you.

Ryan named St. Stanislaus principal

DR. MICHAEL RYAN

Special to the Echo
The St. Stanislaus Board of Directors, at its meeting on Jan. 10, named Dr. Michael Ryan as principal of St. Stanislaus High School for the 1991-92 school session.

As principal, Ryan will serve as the spiritual and instructional leader of the school. Brother Paul Montero, the school's current principal, will remain at St. Stanislaus as the chief administrative officer, and he will serve as president of St. Stanislaus.

In this capacity, he will be ultimately responsible for all aspects of the St. Stanislaus school community, which includes the residency department and the summer camp program.

Ryan is a 1968 graduate of St. Stanislaus. He earned his doctorate degree in educational administration in 1983 from the University of Southern Mississippi. He has been employed at St. Stanislaus during the past 10 of his 19 years in education, and he has served as academic assistant principal for the past five years.

Ryan has also been an instructor at Pearl River Community College in Poplarville and at the Gulf Park Campus of the University of Southern Mississippi.

He is an active member of the National Catholic Education Association and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. He has served as president of the High School Administrators' Forum for the Catholic Diocese of Biloxi.

Ryan and his wife, Janet, live in Pass Christian with their two children, Julie and Mikey. They are members of St. Paul Catholic Church.

In commenting on his new position, Ryan stated: "Being asked to serve as the first lay principal of St. Stanislaus in its 137th-year history is the highest honor that I have received in my professional career."

"My primary goal will be to work closely with the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, faculty and staff, parents, students, and community in order to continue the transmission of the educational mission and ministry of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart."

Brother Paul Montero said, "St. Stanislaus is very blessed to have a gentleman such as Dr. Ryan to serve as our principal for the coming year."

"He is totally dedicated to his family, his church and to St. Stanislaus. I look forward to working with him next year as he leads our school to new levels of excellence."

ON ETV

RAP MUSIC

Rap music has been called the political voice of a new generation. Rap is perhaps the most important pop music trend of the decade, and sometimes the most controversial.

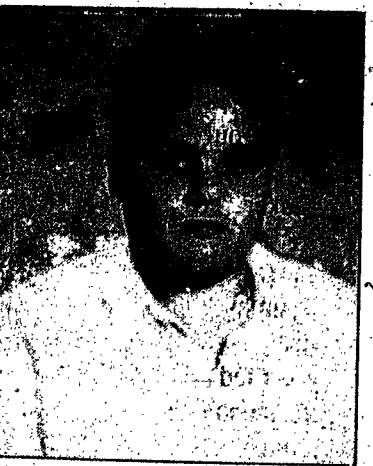

"Rap City Rhapsody" airing at 10 p.m., Friday, Jan. 25 on Mississippi ETV, is a hip, streetwise and, above all, timely documentary on the origins, meanings and performance of rap music.

This one-hour video collage comes together without narration, using segments from rap music videos and interviews with "rappers," disc jockeys and writers to create an up-to-the-minute portrait of the music that is emerging as the social statement of the 1990s.

Shoultz, Emerson named Coast Pepsi Students

REBECCA EMERSON

Each month the faculty selects one student from the junior high school and one from the senior high for this honor. The selection is based on performance, effort, sportsmanship, cooperation, self-control and initiative.

That's why our Center for Obstetrics & Gynecology offers Special Delivery, our "Special Addition" program providing extra-special treatment and a bunch of extra gifts for every newborn. And their families, too.

Maternity Fashion Show Luncheon.

Your Special Addition special treatment begins long before your newborn arrives. Because we pamper expectant parents first. We start with a Maternity Fashion Show and Luncheon for you, the mother-to-be. You'll enjoy lunch at one of Slidell's better restaurants, compliments of NorthShore. And fashions presented by a popular maternity shop.

Educational Programs.

Your entire family will benefit from our educational programs. Like Pre-Natal Education and Lamaze classes, designed to prepare you for childbirth. Sibling classes, which help big brothers and sisters adjust to the changes the new baby will bring. Pregnagym™, a medically-supervised pre- and post-natal exercise program conducted at NorthShore Health Center and offered free to those who deliver at NorthShore Regional Medical Center.

Peace of Mind.

About a month before your baby arrives, we'll provide you with a beeper, so you can alert your loved ones when you go into labor. It's part of our Peace of Mind Program™, designed to ease your worrying as the big day draws near. If it's after office hours, and you're not feeling quite right, you'll find peace of mind in our emergency room, where you can be examined by an emergency physician at no charge.

A Bundle of Gifts.

It's a special baby shower, and NorthShore is bringing all the gifts. We'll present your newborn with a portable crib. Stroller. Nursery monitor. And an infant safety seat. Of course, we don't want to forget you, the new mother. So we'll brighten your room with a bouquet of fresh flowers.

Mother's Helper.

This is one of our most popular extras. And one you're sure to love. It's the Mother's Helper Program™, giving you the extra help you need the week your baby arrives. A qualified Home Maker will come to your home to assist you with cooking, cleaning, and household chores, compliments of NorthShore. The Home Maker will be available five days, four hours per day. So you can relax a little bit.

Parents' Night Out.

As proud new parents, you deserve a night on the town. Celebrate in style with dinner at one of Slidell's better restaurants. NorthShore will make all the arrangements. And we'll pick up the tab. It's our Parents' Night Out Program™. Enjoy!

First In Healthcare.

At NorthShore Regional Medical Center, our top priority is to provide you everything you need in healthcare. That's why we were the first hospital in the area to offer low-cost package pricing for patients without maternity insurance. And no out-of-pocket expenses for maternity patients with insurance. We were also the first to offer the amenities that have made our maternity program so popular, like maternity beepers and homemaker assistance.

We also know that all the extras in the world don't mean anything unless the care you and your newborn receive is first rate. So we're staffed with the best healthcare professionals available. And equipped with the finest technology.

Neonatal Intensive Care.

Our Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is state-of-the-art, and staffed with a neonatologist and neonatal subspecialists. To ensure that your newborn receives the finest care available, should complications arise. Additionally, both of our well baby nurseries offer your newborn the gentle, expert care of our neonatal nurses.

Your choice for childbirth.

All this, and we still offer the lowest maternity package prices around. And the most extras.

When you add it all up, your choice for childbirth is easy. NorthShore Regional Medical Center. It's a special way to welcome your Special Addition into the world.

"We Support Our Troops"

More than 800 local students showed their support for American troops in Saudi Arabia Monday as Hancock North Central Elementary School held a flag presentation and rally. Children with a parent or sibling in Operation Desert Storm held a banner proclaiming the school's patriotic stance, while student representatives from kindergarten through fifth grade (above) held yellow balloons and sixth grade representatives held red, white and blue ones. After the raising of the school's new flag (right), donated by VFW Post 6285 of Kiln, the students gathered around the flagpole outside the gym, released the balloons and held up their small plastic flags in salute as the balloons sail over the pine trees. (Echo staff photos by Traci Bonney)

Serviceman visits

CM2 Dan Meyers, Naval Battalion Construction #7 Seabee, visited with Joan Thomas' American History class at Bay High School in December. The students in Thomas' class have been writing to servicemen in Saudi Arabia for several weeks. Recently returning from Bahrain, Meyers met with Wendy Peterson, who had been corresponding with him while he was a part of Operation Desert Shield. He expressed his thanks and answered questions concerning the culture and traditions he encountered while stationed in the Middle East.

Bible distribution group seeks assistance in work

Special to the Echo
Prisoners Bible Crusade of Picayune is looking for help in its efforts to distribute the Bible to penitentiary inmates.

PBC director Paul E. Lee said, "The Prisoners Bible Crusade is a ministry that God is using to give his holy word, the Bible, to prison inmates."

According to Lee, PBC needs to purchase more Bibles in February. He said the last ones he bought cost $2.67 each, or $64.08 for a case of 24. With freight, postage, handling and office expenses, the cost is about $70 per case of 24, he added.

In addition to purchasing and distributing Bibles, PBC also supplies prison chaplains with pocket New Testaments. Lee said a case of 100 costs about $50.

He added that in the ministry's 18 years of operation, PBC's volunteer workers have distributed 102,381 Bibles and New Testaments.

Those who want more information or who are interested in contributing may write to Lee at Prisoners Bible Crusade, P.O. Box 696, Picayune, MS 39466.

Bienvenu watercolor chosen for 1991 NWS Travel Exhibit

The watercolor "Abandoned," painted by local artist Gerald Bienvenu, is one of 30 selected to represent the National Watercolor Society this year in the NWS Travel Show.

"Abandoned," which has as its subject the building used for the hotel in the film "This Property is Condemned," earned its place in the limelight after being accepted last summer into the 70th Annual NWS Exhibit. The piece was one of 75 selected from among 1,310 submitted by artists from throughout the world.

The NWS Travel Show will appear at sites throughout the United States, including the Barnwell Art Center in Shreveport, La., June 1-30.

Bienvenu's artwork has been exhibited in several shows, including the 48th Annual Audubon Artists Show in New York; the New Orleans Art Association's 13th National Exhibit; the Southern Watercolor Society's 14th Annual Exhibit; the Salmagundi Club's non-member 13th Annual Exhibit in New York; and the Mississippi Watercolor Society's 5th

Blues artist Liniger to perform at Bay Library

The Hancock County Library System and Hancock High School will sponsor a performance by blues artist/researcher Walter Liniger on Tuesday, Jan. 29 at 7 p.m. in the meeting room of the City-County Public Library. Liniger is a research associate with the University of Mississippi's Blues Archives.

Known for his audience participation style performances, Liniger has become extremely popular among students in Mississippi school systems.

Using the blues and the writings of Richard Wright, Liniger combines history, music, psychology, sociology, language, geography, and his own unique style of performing to delight and educate his listeners.

A native of Switzerland, Liniger received his master's degrees in German and French and his teaching degrees in history and English from the University of Bern. He taught for eight years in the Swiss public school system before beginning a tour of the U.S. in 1982.

Over the next two years, the self-taught musician studied guitar and harmonica under such traditional masters as John Jackson, Etta Baker, John Cephas and Phil Wiggins, representatives of the Piedmont traditions.

In 1984, Liniger assumed his current position at the University of Mississippi directing the blues archives' oral history project and continuing his studies under such masters as Sonny Boy Nelson and Jack Owens, exponents of traditional Mississippi blues.

That same year, a Folk Art grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission made it possible for him to start his apprenticeship with James Son Thomas, one of the great third generation Delta Blues players.

Over the past six years, the duo has appeared at most major blues festivals throughout the U.S. and has participated extensively in the statewide Arts In Education program.

The public is invited to attend this free performance. For additional information, contact the library at 467-5282.
